

Oliver Townend, who spent four days at Badminton, collected an Armada dish for five completions. The Yorkshireman, who was still sore from his fall in Kentucky in which he broke seven bones (report, page 34), commented:

“I’m getting better but not quick enough. I’ve given myself two weeks before I get back on a horse. I’m feeling pretty smashed up.”